

Some Quotes I've Been Reading....

Texas Christian University Plans Unique Housing

This fall, Texas Christian University, which is associated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), will designate some on-campus apartments for homosexual, bisexual, transgender students and their supporters. The new DiversCity Q community will be one of the Living Learning Communities, which according to the TCU Student Affairs Web site, are "designed to give students the chance to become part of a unique experience with programs and facilities to support the interests of the community members." Other LLC's will cater to students interested in such topics as the environment, foreign languages, fine arts or Christianity.

Does this not remind you of Josiah and Asa's reformation of when they did what was right? To not remove them is wrong.

I Kings 15:12, "And he took away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made."

II Kings 23:7, "And he brake down the houses of the sodomites, that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the grove."

What Thomas Jefferson said in 1802 seems so very true today. You need to send these to your 'politicians' to implore them to do the right thing for our country, instead of their own interests. It seems that our elected officials are acting in their own interests, instead of the ideals that made this country great.

President Thomas Jefferson in some cases could be called a prophet. It's amazing that this man could say these things so many years ago that have come to fruition in the 21st Century. The last quote is a very serious warning that was not heeded.

"A government big enough to give you everything you want, is strong enough to take everything you have."

"The democracy will cease to exist when you take away from those who are willing to work and give to those who would not."

"It is incumbent upon every generation to pay its own debts as it goes. A principle which, if acted on, would save one-half the wars of the world."

"I predict future happiness for Americans if they can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of taking care of them."

"My reading of history convinces me that most bad government results from too much government."

"No free man shall ever be debarred the use of arms."

"The strongest reason for the people to retain the right to keep and bear arms is, as a last resort, to protect themselves against tyranny in government."

"The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants."

"To compel a man to subsidize with his taxes the propagation of ideas which he disbelieves and abhors is sinful and tyrannical."

"I believe that banking institutions are more dangerous to our liberties than standing armies. If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their currency, first by inflation, then by deflation, the banks and corporations that will grow up around the banks will deprive the people of all property until their children wake-up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered."

--Thomas Jefferson, 3rd president of US (1743 - 1826).
In a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury
Albert Gallatin (1802)

"Mr. Barack Obama wants to uphold an abortion policy that has a disproportionate impact on blacks. The Alan Guttmacher Institute, a non-profit organization focused on sexual and reproductive health research, finds that 13 percent of the U.S. population is black, but 37 percent of all abortions are performed on black women and teens: Blacks are 4.8 times as likely as whites to have an abortion. A vote for Mr. Obama is, in effect, a vote that permits the disproportionate elimination of blacks in America.

--The Washington Times, November 2, 2008, p B8

"In the 1930's, it was the intellectuals who pooh-poohed the dangers from the rise of Adolph Hitler and urged Western disarmament. It would be no feat to fill a big book with all the things on which intellectuals were grossly mistaken, just in the 20th century – far more so than ordinary people. History fully vindicates the late William F. Buckley's view that he would rather be ruled by people represented by the first 100 names in the Boston phone book than by the faculty of Harvard.

How many intellectuals managed to be so wrong, so often? By thinking that because they are knowledgeable – or even expert – within some narrow band out of the vast spectrum of human concerns, they are wise guides to the masses and to the rulers of the nation.

But the ignorance of Ph.D.'s is still ignorant and high-IQ groupthink is still groupthink, which is the antithesis of real thinking."

--Thomas Sowell, Washington Times, November 16, 2008, pB5

The following is excerpted from 'Will There Be an Activist Pastor to the Next President,' Virtueonline.org, November 16, 2008:

"A conservative Christian Activist says it's a sad omen for the Obama administration and the United States that Barack Obama has been seeking guidance from the Episcopal Church's first openly homosexual bishop.

The Times of London reports that the president-elect sought out New Hampshire homosexual bishop Gene Robinson for advice three times during his presidential campaign.

Robinson, whose ordination in the Episcopal Church has caused a deep rift within the Anglican Communion, was reportedly sought out by Obama to discuss what it feels like to be 'first'. Robinson notes in their three private conversations, Obama voiced his support for 'equal civil rights' for homosexuals and described the election as a 'religious experience'.

Peter LaBarbera, president of Americans for Truth About Homosexuality, believes Obama's consultations with Robinson show the true tenor of his upcoming administration. It looks like Billy Graham has been replaced by a gay bishop."

"Some Christians believe that it shows a lack of faith to arm oneself even in the face of immanent danger. To be armed is to not trust God as one's protector, or so I'm told. I certainly trust God as my provider, yet I work. I trust God as my healer, yet I go to the doctor. The same holds true for protection. I look to the Lord ultimately to protect me and my family, yet there may be a time when arming myself for their protection is the prudent thing to do. It may be a matter of simply deterring wickedness, or more actively preventing the rape or murder of one's loved ones. My understanding of Matthew 5:39 and Luke 6:29 is that they have to do with retaliation regarding an insult or litigation pertaining to one's personal goods. To apply the verse to a life-threatening assault is to dismiss the context, as well as contradict the many other verses and examples throughout the Bible that would deny pacifism."

--The Berean Call – February 2009

"According to for Zion's Sake Ministries the violence is nothing new in Orissa, India, where India's Communist Party estimates that more than 500 Christians have been killed by Hindu mobs in Orissa since late August, 12 times more than official government claims of only 40 homicides.

But now the stakes are even higher – and pastors have a bounty on their heads, the ministry says.

Faiz Rahman, chairman of Good News India, said Hindu militants are targeting Christian leaders. The ministry says the Christian Post reported that 'The going price to kill a pastor is $25.00'."

PROFOUND STATEMENTS

"If you don't read the newspaper you are uninformed, if you do read the newspaper you are misinformed."

--Mark Twain

"Suppose you were an idiot. And suppose you were a member of Congress. But then I repeat myself"

-- Mark Twain

"No man's life, liberty, or property is safe while the legislature is in session."

-- Mark Twain (1866)

"The only difference between a tax man and a taxidermist is that the taxidermist leaves the skin."

-- Mark Twain